I am quite new to these kind of things and I appreciate any help. A: If you want to get the values in the sheet A6 to C8, then you need to include the A6:C8 in the code. You can do that like this: String[] rows = storageData.Range("A6:C8").Value.ToString().Split(";"); Alternatively, you could also try this: String[] rows = storageData.Range("A6:C8").Text.ToString().Split(";"); Main menu Post navigation Riding Tall When I first started working at the Ski Lodge, there was a little man who came in for breakfast every day. He was very short, pudgy, and had a permanent scowl on his face. I figured he must be a cranky old man who was crankier than anyone I had ever f30f4ceada
