FAQ: Why will Motion Blur not work with 360 footage from OptiTrack? As it has been stated by OptiTrack's support: "Motion Blur is not designed to work with 360 virtual reality (VR) footage. Our company's best recommendation to fix this issue is to create a workflow that's similar to what Motion Blur is designed for. This usually means stitching the footage into a linear video in an editor of your choice." RSMB Pro allows to slice the.mp4 video that is being tracked with OptiTrack or.mov video. Step 2 : Option 1 : Find the 5.2 MB installer. Then opt for the ."Motion Blur After Effects " version. User Info: Nk_Wizard Nk_Wizard 3 years ago #9 For me, the plugin works fine with the 360 footage I've tested it with but that's because I've not tested any of their other plugins so I can't guarantee it will work with all of them. EDIT: I've just tried it and it doesn't work with the very first build they put up for AE CC 2015, but if you use their updated build of it you will be fine with that. It's a plug-in and after I get the new update for the plugin, I will test the updated version and let you know which build is best.
