host I'm trying to execute a bash script remotely from a fresh Debian Lenny installation on my internal network. I can ssh into the machine but I cannot execute a simple bash command from the remote machine because the remote machine doesn't have permission on the /bin/ bash file (in this case): [root@ip-10-0-0-10 bin]# ls -l /bin/bash -rwsrwxr-x 1 root root 12880 Oct 3 13:25 /bin/bash* When I try to execute the script remotely, I get the following error: [root@ip-10-0-0-10 bin]# ssh -i admin.pem QEMU SIZE LIBQEMU_SYNC QEMU execution aborted: Access denied for user 'root'@'ip-10-0-0-10' (Using password: no) [root@ip-10-0-0-10 bin]# Is there a way around this? A: It's not a security problem but a configuration problem.
Assuming that the root user on the remote host has permission to /bin, you need to add the user to the /etc/shells file with something like /bin/sh # Default /
