Also includes a good analysis of the "Jones for Big Jim". (I own a vintage AB, and the sound is great from the speaker. I've used a Hiwatt Classic 50, a Klark Teknik Hakan, a Peavey DV12, an old 2x12, and a Zen 10). Nothing can beat the big open sound of the Tele's, though. But when you crank the treble control on a vintage Tele you can get a great, mid-treble sound out of a 1" speaker. And the new 4x10s on Les Pauls have a really cool tone to them. I think the Tele is not only the most appreciated, but the most copied guitar in the world. Pick up a cheap one at your local music store. These are definitely the most popular. I mean, I can see why....Most of the tunes were written by Jimmy Reed, but I realize that that is not the point of this post. It is simply to say that "Big Bad John" is a great rock and roll tune and it should be an obvious choice for Junior to cover it (not as obvious as "Big Bad Leroy")) POB 905 Å Å Å Å Å Muddville, NC Å Å U.S.A.
