Q: How to quickly sketch an equation? I'm working on a PhD project on 3d reconstruction of objects using some form of machine learning, and I need to quickly show an equation to describe how a particular function should be approximated. I'm using mathematica and I will be happy with the outcome even if it's a long equation in "math form". I didn't find a way to quickly sketch it as a graph. Is there a way to quickly sketch it in a non-graphical way? A: If you just want a graphical representation of a mathematical expression, you can use Solve:  $\text{Solve}[x^3 + 5 x^2 - x - 6 == 0, x] (* \{ \{x \rightarrow -(2 + \text{Sqrt}[6])\}, \{x \rightarrow -(2 - \text{Sqrt}[6])\}, \{x \rightarrow -(2 + \text{Sqrt}[6]) + 2 I\}, \{x \rightarrow -(2 - \text{Sqrt}[6]) - 2 I\}, \{x \rightarrow -(2 +$

$\sqrt{6}) - 4 I\}$ ,  $\{x \rightarrow -(2 - \sqrt{6}) + 4 I\}$  \*) To scale it, you can use Show: ContourPlot[ $x^3 + 5 x^2 - x - 6$ ,  $\{x, -4, 4\}$ ,  $\{y, -2, 2\}$ , PlotRange -> Automatic, ContourShading -> None, Contours ->  $\{-2, -2\}$ ,  $\{-1, -1\}$ ,  $\{0, 0\}$ ,  $\{1, 1\}$ ,  $\{2, 2\}$ ,  $\{3, 3\}$ }, AspectRatio -> 1/2
